RESULTS

• it is still relatively early for most governments to make policy changes; the urgency of COVID-19 responses overtook governments works to implement the UNESCO OER Recommendation

• respondents were largely representatives from civil society. They likely would not have insight into internal policy efforts until those policies were finalized and made public

• COVID-19:
  • acted as a catalyst for greater awareness-raising of OER and engagement
  • has radically changed the way education institutions do everything
  • will open up opportunities for international cooperation and creativity with OER.

OERAC Chair: Pr. Ebba Ossiannilsson

RECOMMENDATIONS

• Reinforce communication around existing OER efforts, and how they further develop in the coming years will (1) give countries recognition for (direct and indirect) work implementing the UNESCO OER Recommendation and (2) strengthen the framework the Recommendation provides for everyone.

• Develop a stronger network and practice around information sharing. When more policy makers and institutions become aware of existing (1) capacity building initiatives, (2) supportive policies, (3) examples of incentive structures and initiatives building more equitable access to quality OER, (4) sustainability models, and (5) examples of monitoring and evaluation efforts, in other countries, it will be easier to adapt these efforts to local needs.
• Provides free access to an online test, whereby successful learners have the opportunity to gain the Certificate of Competency in Copyright and Creative Commons Licensing.

• Developed by OER universitas (OERu) in English

• Translation and adaptation to French coordinated by ICDE/OERu/UNESCO: translated by UNESCO, technical review and validation by French Digital University. Cultural validation within the Francophone OER group.

• Capacity Building tool for the project

• Documented process, replicable in other languages
National and transnational workshops in West & Central Africa

- Preliminary survey by UNESCO Dakar & Neil Butcher associates
- Leverage our existing networks within Higher Education ministries, as well as any ministry in charge of professional training, and in virtual universities
- Organize three virtual transnational workshops in 2021 where the academic community works with the ministries and the business world
  - West Africa
  - Central Africa
  - ...
- One can dream and hope ☺️: a face to face meeting in 2021
  - Possibly co-located with the eLearning Africa conference
  - Focused on:
    - How each country can embrace and operationally implement the OER recommendation
    - How OERs can be used with digital micro-credentials for life-long learning
Replicability and how to engage

- Learn from existing initiatives in the English-speaking world through networks such as OEG, ICDE, OERu
- Share with other Francophone countries (report on pilot nature of initiative, document with recommendations for replication, re-use and adapt the capacity building material)
- Cooperate with other linguistic areas (Portuguese, Spanish...)
  - Portuguese
    - Establish partnership with academic institutions in Natal, Brazil
    - Cooperate with the Portuguese edtech sector
    - Address the needs in Angola, Guinea-Bissau, Mozambique
  - Spanish
